

About Toray PPO 2010

Prospects of world Women's Tennis in 2010

The rivalry among top players will be harder than this year. The Grand Slam consistent tops, such as S. Williams, Safina, Kuznetsova, and Dementieva, will compete with the new comers, like Wozniacki, Azarenka and Radwanska. Also, Sharapova (PPO 2009 winner), Clisters, and Henin of the come-back players will be the worthy rivals.

Many leading players in the lineup at the 2009 Toray PPO like Grand Slams

With the participation of most of the top 40 players, we could see really high level performances in the 2009 Toray PPO, such as, No.1 player Safina, former No. 1 Sharapova, Ivanovic, and Jankovic, in addition to the past Toray PPO winner Sharapova, Dementieva, Safina. Also, the Grand slam winner Kuznetsova (Roland Garros), finalist V. Williams (Wimbledon) and Wozniacki (US Open) have made their entries.

Three of the "Top 10" players advance to the semi-finals, after the tough weeks; 6 matches in a week (5 for the seeded players). Many great players have participated, and all matches were so exciting.

Must-see the Final on Oct. 2

Our tournament is very important for the players aiming to be the year-end champions, and for the players who desire to make a strong start.

Entry deadline of the upcoming Toray PPO is to be late August, and the player names will be announced accordingly. Like this year, a lot of major and star players will be coming again next year. The final will surely be so outstanding, so the tennis fans must see the stage.